STONE WAS VIOLENT

Used Strong Language in Defending Himself.

BRYAN TALKS TO EDITORS

Appealed to Them Not to Make Democratic Party So Much Like the Republican That the Republicans Could Easily Get in It.

(By Associated Press.)
KANSAS CITY, MO., April 20,—United States Senator William J. Stone, address ing the annual convention of the Missouri Democratic Press Association to day, made an elaborate explanation of his connection with baking powder legislation and enforcement of the State food laws, and bitterly denounced the daily newspapers of the State, which, he declared, had "hounded" him outrageously. William J. Bryan had been announced as the principal speaker of the afternoon. He received enthusiastic welcome and spoke as "a co-editor of co-editors." He declared that throughout the country he found deep and growing dissatis-faction among the Republican voters with the policy of the national adminisfaction among the Republican voters with the policy of the national administration, and exhorted his hearers not to make "the Democratic party so much like the Republican party that it would be easy for Republicans to get into it," but to keep it different in order that in time of stress the people would turn to the Democracy for deliverance. '

Praising the State of Missouri for its prosecution of the packing houses, he said: "The Federal government seems to be afraid to enforce the criminal law and prefers the use of injunctions."

Mr. Bryan spoke with earnestness of the hostility of most of the large daily papers to the Democratic party, and said that some of the professed Democratic papers of the East "did more harm in four years of apologizing for the Democratic pattorm than they could undo in four months of a campaign when they supported the ticket."

WANTED ALL PUNISHED.

He closed with a reference to the Missouri Legislature scandals, and called for the punishment of every offending official.

Congressman-elect C. M. Hitchcock, of Congressman-elect C. M. Hitchcock, of Omaha, spoke briefly, and then Senator Stone was introduced and at once took up the bribery investigation. The Senator, who labored under intense excitement, protested against the persecution to which he had been subjected by the "scavengers of the press," who had used "assassins" methods."

He shouled: "Before my God, I fear them not! I laugh in their faces and spit

As a private attorney he had assisted in the enforcement of the State pure food laws, and in 1001, when it was proposed to repeal the anti-alum law, he wrote an argument against repeal, but he did not visit Jefferson City.

"I swear to you I never spoke nor wrote to any member of the Legislature concerning this matter but what I have told you," he declared.

He said he hoped every guilty man would be uncovered.

In closing his address Senator Stone said:

"I hope God will wither my hand, palsy my tongue, and burn my heart in the flames of hell before I will intentionally dishonor any position to which the peo-ple of Missouri assign me."

WANTED TERMS WITH ATTORNEY

Plaintiffs Allege That They Lieut.-Governor Lee Offers to Were Employed but Never Testify, but Only Along Certain Lines.

(By Associated Press.) ST. LOUIS, MO., April 20 .- During the day an emissary from Lieutenant-Governor Lee called upon Circuit Attorney Folk with the proposition that if the district attorney in pushing the boodle investigation would agree to question Mr. Lee only about the alum deal. Lee would anpear before the grand jury immediately Mr. Folk informed his visitor that he would not promise to restrict himself in any part of the inquiry and the conference was fruitless.

The declaration in the case alleges that Senator Elkins employed petitioners in November, 1900, to secure for him certain information, plans data and legal opinions concerning the Western Maryland Rallroad Company, for the purpose of aiding him to acquire a controlling interest in that company. He proposed to pay them for services rendered him or his business in this matter, provided he obtained a controlling interest in the read.
